«Geneva, Switzerland» The writer reviews the events of his visit to Bristol and discusses the attitude of the English Unitarians toward Slavery, and the address to the American Unitarian ministers from the British Unitarians. Complains of the failure of the American Unitarians to take an interest in the abolition of Slavery. Says that there is opposition to any discussion of the subject among them. ... Says that the Abolitionists believe that the dissemination of the truth about Slavery will cause its downfall. Discusses the hostility of the clergy towards the abolitionists. Tells about Rev. William Ellery Channing. Refers to the motto Christo in Pauperibus. (See also the main author card).

Buckingham, Edgar, 1812-1894

To Rev. Samuel May Jr.

[Deerfield, Mass.] The writer thinks one Frank B. Sanborn would know the source of a certain unidentified quotation. The writer will try to get Wendell Phillips to ask Sanborn about it. Rejoices over the election of James A. Garfield. Thinks ex-President Grant and Roscoe Conkling may try to get control of the Republican administration.

To Rev. Samuel May Jr.

⸢Sterling, Mass.⸣ The writer deplores the attempts of certain individuals to represent themselves as Abolitionists when they were in fact pro-Slavery partisans. Discusses his early preaching experiences, and tells about one of his first anti-Slavery sermons. Says that Stowe, Vermont was a "nest of pro-Slavery men." Thinks that the Unitarians are missing a great opportunity in the Temperance cause.

Frothingham, Octavius Brooks, 1822-1895

To Rev. Samuel May Jr.

[New York] The writer declines an invitation to speak at the Anniversary meeting. Objects to the lack of education and originality of the Abolitionist speakers. Does not wish to be associated with them. Doubts the value of conventions. Says they have been superseded by newspapers, etc.

Furness, William Henry, 1802- ; minister

To Rev. Samuel May Jr.

[Philadelphia] The writer says he has only one letter of John Brown, of which he would have sent a copy if he had had time. Says that the true nature of the South and its aristocracy has been revealed. The Abolitionists have been "compelling Slavery to show itself in its unutterable hideousness". "The Government is not warring against Slavery. It is simply recovering its stolen property."

Heywood, Ezra Hervey, 1829-1893

To Rev. Samuel May Jr.

‹Written from?› The writer says he changed a lecture assignment for H. Ford Douglass. Says that the balance of the Tract Fund is very low. Praises Wendell Phillips and Lydia Maria Child for their conduct during a riot. Expects further trouble and hopes "the blow may fall on some of us youngsters who can be more easily spared..." Thinks the Mayor might side with the mob against the Abolitionists.

Hutton, Joseph

To Rev. Samuel May Jr.

«King's Cross, London» The writer complains about an article in the Liberator of Dec.31,1847 in which Rev. George E. Ellis says that the English are stirring up trouble in the U.S. over the Slavery issue. The writer also cannot see why the Ellis article was treated as a pro-Slavery article, nor why the acting Editor designated Rev. Ellis as a "hater of God and Man." Agrees with Ellis that "The liberty granted to him (the slave) ought to be something more than liberty to go where he will, and starve,..."

Steinthal, S Alfred

To Rev. Samuel May Jr.

‹Bridgewater, England› The writer remarks on a letter in the Liberator(No.1052) which blamed Parker Pillsbury for not attacking the oppression of the English people by their government. Says that there is little reason for complaint. Compares English and American ideas of freedom. Says that many noblemen favor Abolition. Remarks on a letter in the New York Times from the Hon. Henry A. Wise which defended Slavery as a divine institution. Comments caustically on the editor's opinion that "there may be reasons why some races of men should pass through a state of bondage." Praises the revised form of the National Anti-Slavery Standard.

Steinthal, S Alfred

To Rev. Samuel May Jr.

«Bridgewater, England» The writer expresses great pleasure at the opposition to Judge Edward Greely Loring. Discusses the predicament of those who vote under the Constitution while favoring the Abolition of Slavery. Says he is inclined to be more lenient in judging George Thompson's conduct at the London Conference of the British & Foreign Anti-Slavery Soc'y. Thinks Rev. May overestimates the influence of this Society. Defends the New Broad Street Committee and L. A. Chamerovzow. Advises keeping an agent in England. Says Parker Pillsbury has done a lot of good, but is not fitted to be the English agent. Describes Chamerovzow. Tells of seeing the Estlins, Rev. William James and Rev. George Armstrong. Has corresponded with Louis Kossuth about [illegible] American trip. [Lajos Kossuth]

To William Lloyd Garrison

. Brooklyn, (Conn.). Praises W.L.G.'s zeal for the Anti-Slavery cause. His opinions on some points were changed by W.L.G.'s arguments. Cannot agree with W.L.G. in his opposition to the Colonization Society. Believes that the colonization schemes "will be introductory to more efficient measures." People are beginning to think that something should be done about the evils of Slavery. The Colonization Society has opened a channel through which "correct sentiments" concerning the slaves can be disseminated. Finds that the supporters of the Society do not differ as much with his opinions as he supposed. Will have to combat the current belief in the negro's inferiority. The Society [illegible]s that the negroes should show their ability in Liberia.

«Brooklyn, (Conn.)» "Enclosed are eight pages more of my sermon." Delivered it to a large audience in Providence. Received W.L.G.'s Address to the Free People of Color. Says that W.L.G. is too severe on the advocates of colonization. "... they do not deserve the unsparing vituperation which you are continually pouring out upon them." W.L.G. ought to rejoice that so much attention is being focused on the problems of the colored people. "I fear I shall not convince you ... you are as pertinacious of your opinions as I am." Recommends Henry E. Benson as an agent in Providence. Schools and colleges must be established for colored people. Points out an error in the Liberat[illegible] version of his sermon.

[Brooklyn, Conn.] The writer forgot to attend to several things during his last days in Boston. Finds he ought to have sent to the Treasurer of the American Anti-Slavery Society a list of pledges given by donors from states other than Massachusetts. Refers to an agreement made in 1834 which bars the Massachusetts Society from receiving moneys from members of other states except for the Manual Labor School. Asks the addressee to send the Treasurer of the national society a list of all pledges due to him. The writer finds his Society much reduced, and his thoughts are daily in Boston. Presumes that some of the brethren are plea[illegible] their cause before the committee of the Rhode Island Le[illegible]ture at Newport. Has just received news of the destructi[illegible] of Marion College. Apprehends that "the matter between us and the south will be brought

<South Scituate, (Mass.)> Expects to be in Boston for several days in January. "The present aspect of the Anti-Slavery cause is to me more gloomy and unpromising than it has ever been. I fear the evangelical character of our enterprise is or soon will be lost sight of." Wrote a long letter to Beriah Green criticising the course pursued by the American Anti-Slavery Society in regard to the murder of E. P. Lovejoy. Objects to Green's failure to publicly condemn Lovejoy's violent defensive action when mobbed. Was much disturbed by J. T. Austin's speech at the Faneuil Hall meeting. Thinks the objections of the Boston city government to the use of the Hall for an Anti-Slavery me[illegible] sponsored by W. E. Channing will influence the thinking [illegible]any Boston citizens. Is grieved to find so little criticism by Abolitionists of E. P. Lovejoy's resort to physical force. Regrets particularly the Emancipator's failure to print anything but "unqualified praise" of E. P. L. Criticises the action of the American Anti-Slavery Society and Rev. B. Green at the Tabernacle meeting for failure to abide by the pledge in the Declaration of Sentiments to use only pacific means to free the slaves. S. J. M. wrote a long letter to the Emancipator setting forth these views. Endorses W. E. [South Scituate, Mass.] The writer, at the request of the Hanson Lyceum, delivered a lecture in that town on the non-resistance principles of the Gospel. Parochial duties will prevent the writer from attending the quarterly meeting (of the Mass. Anti-Slavery Society) and also he does not "feel that the occasion is really so important as many seem to regard it." It seems to the writer that "there has been a mutual distrust, not to say jealousy between the parties..." Recommends meeting in a Christian spirit. The writer believes that if "a rupture takes place between the [Mass.] Board and the [New York Executive] Committee it is very probable the latter will throw themselves into the arms of the new party."

To Hon. Horace Mann

[Lexington] The writer seeks to allay Mr. Mann's fears that zeal for the cause of Abolition will cause him(Rev. May) to neglect his duties toward the Normal School. He adds that many of the pupils of the Normal School are Abolitionists, and that his trip to Waltham with some of them did not result in neglect of his duties. He also said that he had abandoned the idea of giving a course of lectures on Abolition. He ends the letter by saying that the Normal School is full and that some of the students want to study Latin. [Lexington, Mass.] The writer, when accepting a lecture assignment, had hoped to find something suitable among his manuscripts. Not having done so, however, and having read little lately on the subject of Colonization assigned to him, the writer suggests that his friend Oliver Stearns or Adin Ballou would "more than supply" his place.

«Lexington, Mass.» In answer to a circular appeal for money, the writer promises ten dollars, and will do what he can to interest the abolitionists in Lexington, which is "one of the 'deadest' places I was ever in." Last evening the writer gave the townspeople "a rousing anti slavery lecture," to which they listened with good attention.

«Syracuse, N.Y.» The writer is "rejoiced to see that old Massachusetts is not quite asleep on the subject of Texas." Offers the addressee a report, made by himself, of a speech delivered at the Anti-Texas Convention, which he had given to the (Anti-Slavery?) Reporter for publication, but which had been suppressed. The addressee may publish it in the Liberty Bell or elsewhere.

A.N.S. 2 p. 10 x 8 in.

«Syracuse, N.Y.» The writer is waiting for the Liberty Bell, which he wants to present to his friend George B. Emerson. Can dispose of a half dozen copies of the Liberty Bell. It is sad "to feel oneself so far away from Boston." Lists the Abolitionists assembled to consider the Report of the Board of C. F. Missions. The address, prepared by Amos A. Phelps, "gives such an expose of the corruption of the Board as ought to destroy all confidence in them." Tells of the objectives of two projected political meetings concerned with the votes of Liberty Party members.

«Syracuse, N.Y.» Concerned with the republication, in a volume, of the writer's "Anti Slavery Recollections" originally printed in the Christian Register. The writer wishes the addressee's help in correcting errors and making additions. The writer has repeatedly told his readers that he was "only attempting to give sketches – not a complete history of the anti-slavery conflict." Requests the addressee to revive his recollections of Nathaniel P. Rogers. Also asks about the name of the New Hampshire lawyer "who went to New Orleans to settle the estate of a deceased brother – found it insolvent – and was obliged to allow his brother's daughters and their mother to be sold as part of [illegible] assets."

Gannett, Ezra Stiles, 1801-1871; minister

To Rev. Samuel Joseph May

«Boston» The writer replies to Rev. S. J. May's assertion that the remark about the Abolitionists attributed to him by Rev. May in his Recollections... was in fact made at a meeting of ministers in Boston. The writer reiterates his views about the Fugitive Slave Law. Complains that the Abolitionists charged him and others with unworthy motives.

«No pl.» Mainly concerned with the messages contained in a note from Mrs. Abby (Kelley) Foster, who cannot come until the Tuesday before the fair opens. Mrs.Foster says that her friend Mrs.Wright intends to come with Mrs.Johnson to tend the tables. Quotes Mrs.Foster as saying that Mrs.Wright is "most admirably adapted to the business - she got up a most beautiful Fair at Utica unaided..." Mrs.Parker is willing to receive the ladies from Worcester; the writer mentions names of these possible visitors. Comments: "the work is so hard that I am anxious to have real workers come."

To Anne Warren Weston

.Boston. Mrs. Alcott told the writer that they could not have Mr. Alcott's room because of the landlord's objection. But the Needle Woman's Friend Society are vacating their rooms, for which they have the lease till February 15th, and these may be had for a charge of $1 a day. Mr.May says that he will come every day to make a fire in the stove, and the writer and Mrs.May (mother-in-law?) will be happy to take their turn in keeping shop.
